Cultivating Health, Happiness, and Community Connection Through Movement

The Dancefix Foundation is a Cincinnati-based 501(c)3 nonprofit organization dedicated to enriching lives and building confidence through the power of dance, providing pathways and creating spaces where everyone can thrive. Located in Walnut Hills, we create and provide tailored dance programs to schools and youth, free dance classes for adults, and movement and community focused gatherings for cancer patients, survivors, caregivers, and health care providers in the Greater Cincinnati area.

"When we move in rhythm with others our bodies release oxytocin, a bonding hormone, changing the way we relate and connect. The Dancefix Foundation believes that dance and the arts in general help bridge divides by promoting self expression and encouraging empathy. We bring people of all ages, from different backgrounds together to build community through dance. It is truly healing"

-Heather Britt, Executive Director, Dancefix Foundation

Creating Opportunity Through Access

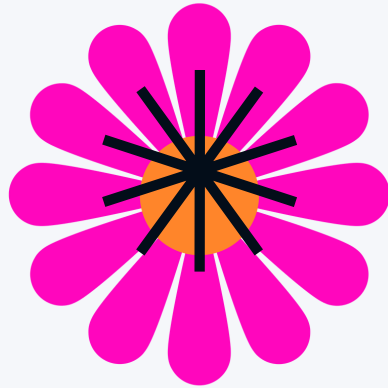

Dancefix Foundation's Executive Director Heather Britt has made it her personal mission over the past 25 years to create safe and welcoming spaces for people to move and express themselves with a focus on access and inclusion.

Recognized and awarded for her work in the community, Heather knows first-hand the benefits of dance for physical and mental health; how mastery of a skill builds self-confidence and self-worth; how moving with others breaks down barriers and builds stronger communities; and how access to the arts can teach leadership skills, and lead to a fulfilling career. As a recent cancer survivor, she also understands all of the ways that dance can heal.

But not everyone can afford a dance class or has exposure to the opportunity to be involved in the arts. Heather attended Cincinnati's School for The Creative and Performing Arts, an experience which she credits her achievements as a nationally-recognized professional dancer, choreographer, and community builder. Noting that educational budget cuts adversely affect arts curriculum in schools, access to arts education in many communities is in dire need. The Dancefix Foundation team is working for the community to fill those needs through our partnerships with local schools, community organizations, arts organizations, hospitals, and more.

Studio DFX is the Dancefix Foundation's signature annual fundraiser and our primary source of operating revenue. The success of this event provides the funding that sustains our organization throughout the year, covering essential operating expenses and making our work possible. Last year's inaugural event welcomed more than 250 guests and generated $90,000 in net proceeds through sponsorships, raffles, and ticket sales. Your sponsorship is an investment in the stability and sustainability of the Dancefix Foundation, thank you!
